

S. Vietnam Claims Big Victory

By GEORGE ESPEN
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — A top-ranking South Vietnamese field commander claimed today that his forces had virtually destroyed a North Vietnamese army division in three months of fighting around Fire Base O'Reilly in the northern sector of South Vietnam.

Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam, commander of the northern quadrant of South Vietnam, told newsmen in Da Nang that his forces, with support from American bombers, had wiped out the equivalent of two regiments from the North Vietnamese 324B Division.

"The 324B Division which tried to take O'Reilly has been rendered almost ineffective," said Lam. "The enemy has conducted only sporadic shelling attacks in recent days. We are firmly in control and conditions are excellent."

Lam gave no casualty figures for either side.

Fire Base O'Reilly had been under artillery siege since late July, and American bombers flew hundreds of raids against North Vietnamese positions surrounding it.

On the battlefields of South Vietnam, the U.S. Command said activity increased slightly during the past 24 hours with five engagements in the northern sector, the central highlands and along the coastal plain. The command said 27 North Vietnamese troops and six Americans were killed and 13 Americans wounded in the five fights.

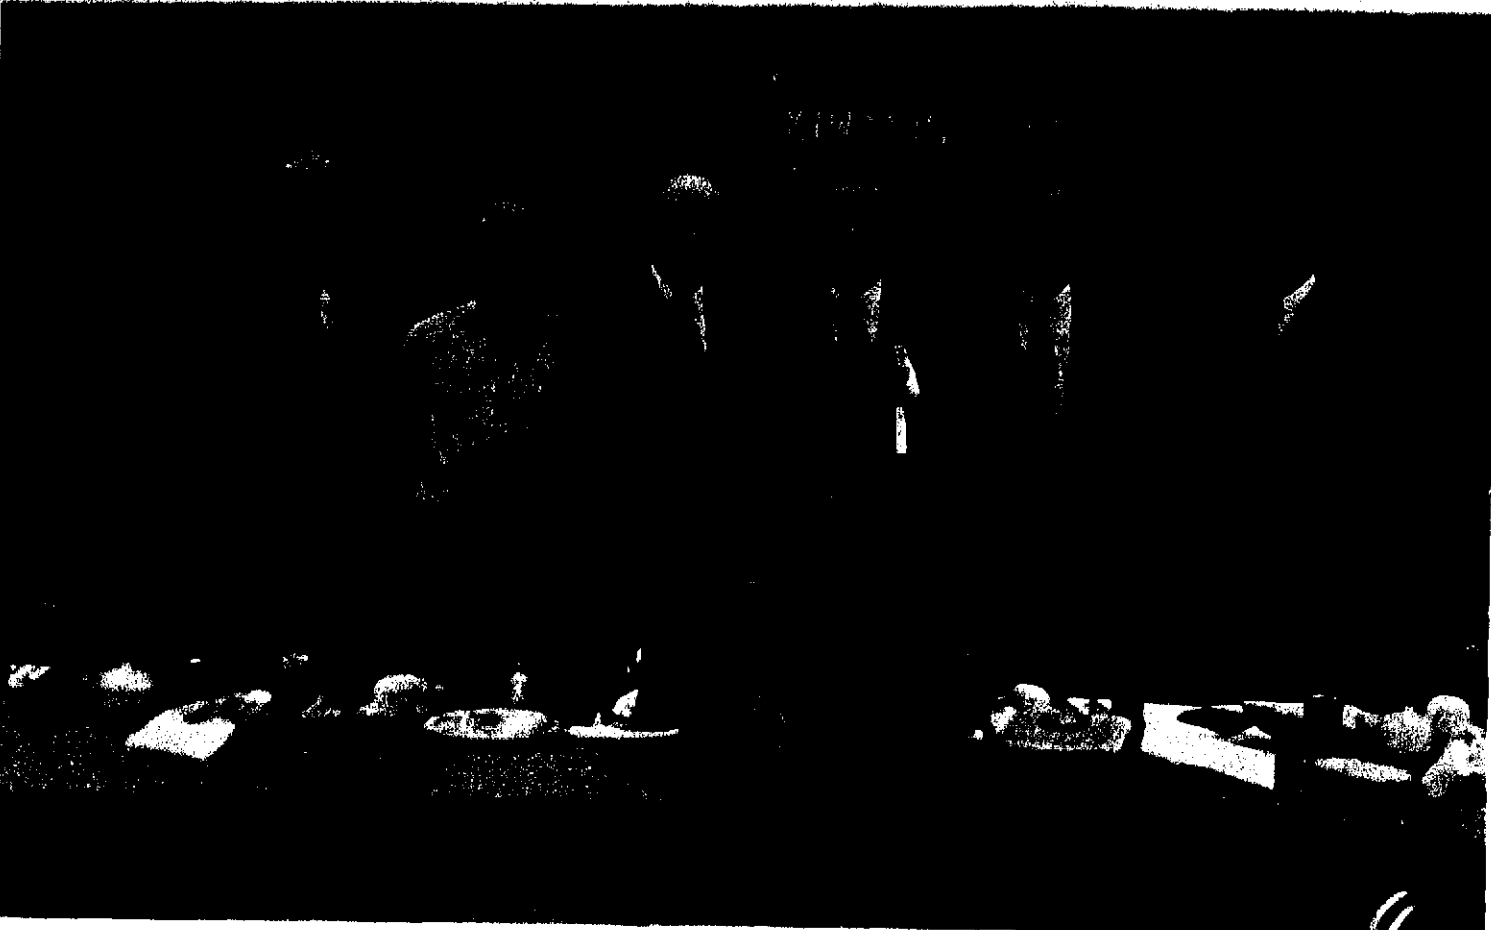

A U.S. Navy OV10 spotter aircraft and a U.S. Army helicopter were shot down in different parts of South Vietnam. Both crewmen aboard the OV10 bailed out and were rescued with minor injuries. The two crewmen aboard the helicopter were killed.

In its Vietnamization program, the U.S. Army turned over to the South Vietnamese a squadron of 16 CH47 Chinook helicopters, each capable of carrying 44 troops or heavy cargo loads.

Elsewhere in Indochina, sources in Saigon said a South Vietnamese C119 twin-engine cargo plane crashed on takeoff from Phnom Penh Airport after landing ammunition. Sources said all five crewmen were missing.

Obituaries

NEW YORK (AP) — Gilbert Seldes, 77, music and drama critic, playwright and author of more than 15 books, died Tuesday. Seldes first gained national attention with publication in 1924 of his book, "The 7 Lively Arts."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Maj. Gen. St. Clair "Bill" Streett, 76, aviation pioneer, World War I pilot and one of the colorful flying generals of World War II, died Monday after a long illness. Streett commanded the 13th Air Force in the Solomon Islands late in the Pacific War.

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — James L. Dalton, 62, who had headed FBI offices in Alabama, Indiana, Iowa, Nebraska, Tennessee and West Virginia in a 28-year career with the federal agency died Monday after an extended illness.

Cong troops again attacked the rear of a Cambodian offensive operation stalled 47 miles north of Phnom Penh.

Associated Press correspondent John T. Wheeler reported that the fighting was about five miles behind the Cambodians' front line in the Taing Kauk area.

Six Cambodian soldiers were reported wounded. The body of one enemy soldier was found.

Officials Say

not specify what the information was.

There were reports from sources who asked to remain anonymous that the investigation involved the department's function of issuing liquor permits. Asked about this, Gaspard said liquor permit issuance was not involved.

When reporters first went to Gaspard's office, the director said he knew nothing about an investigation.

On a later visit, however, reporters were told by Gaspard that an inquiry was being conducted by the State Police.

Gaspard, appointed ABC chief in 1967 by Rockefeller, said he had not been interviewed by investigators.

Asked if Gaspard was involved in the probe, Scott said, "Not directly."

"There are a great many angles, some of which may be important, some of which may not," Scott told newsmen.

He said that if something, "affirmative" is uncovered by the inquiry, the investigation could be "quite extensive."

There have been unconfirmed reports in recent weeks, as well as some several weeks before the State Police inquiry began, that Rockefeller had asked Gaspard to resign. Gaspard said no such request had been made.

Dynamite Truck Explodes, 2 Are Arrested

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — A dynamite truck exploded on the outskirts of Springfield early today and the Missouri Highway Patrol reported the arrest of two men and two women in connection with the blast.

The truck driver, John Galt, 48, Oklahoma City, Okla., was missing and presumed dead.

The patrol reported an intercepted call from one of the women led to her arrest at a farmhouse near Ash Grove, Mo., about 10 miles from the interstate highway where the dynamite truck blew up.

The two men and the other woman walked out of the nearby woods as a highway patrol plane circled overhead and ground searchers approached.

The patrol said a witness told of seeing a shot fired at the truck as it passed an interchange on Interstate Highway 44 west of Springfield.

Identifications of those arrested and details of the charges against them were not immediately available.

Negro Jailed for Threat With Rifle

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Willie C. Love, 21, of Little Rock, who said he had a "revolutionary warrant" for Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller and other state officials, was arrested Tuesday after he entered the state Capitol with a loaded M1 rifle.

State Police said Love, a Negro, was arrested by State Police Sgt. Tony McDonald and taken to the Pulaski County Jail where he was charged with disturbing the peace and possession of a weapon.

No one was injured in the incident. No shot was fired.

Drug Testimony Involves LR Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former Little Rock woman was among those who testified Tuesday before a House subcommittee investigating the use of drugs to treat overactive school children.

Mrs. Daniel Youngs of Indianapolis, Ind., said that she and her husband left Little Rock in 1966 after a three-year "nightmare" in which school officials pressured her to allow the use of drugs on their children as treatment for alleged learning disabilities.

Mrs. Youngs said school officials, not doctors, diagnosed her son and daughter as having learning disabilities and pleaded with her repeatedly to submit the children to drug treatment.

The children were allegedly given drugs in an experimental program run by the University of Arkansas Medical Center.

John Fortenberry, assistant superintendent of Little Rock schools, said Tuesday at Little Rock, that the school district neither endorsed or participated in any drug program.

Fortenberry said participation in any such program was "strictly up to parents and their personal physicians."

Reform Bill All But Killed in Senate

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has all but killed for this session of Congress a proposal for direct election of the president.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., a leader of the opposition, pronounced the measure dead after the failure Tuesday of a second effort to shut off debate and force the proposal to a vote.

But Indiana Democrat Birch Bayh, chief sponsor of the proposed constitutional amendment, said he still has hopes of winning the two-thirds majority necessary to put the Senate's debate-closing rule into effect.

In effect, the electoral reform issue will be allowed to simmer for a while. Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, said it will still be before the Senate but other measures will be taken up from day to day.

Bayh did not object when Mansfield moved immediately after the rejection of the cloture move to bring up a military construction bill, saying he no longer would try to block action on other legislation.

But in talking with newsmen later, Bayh said he intends to try to get another vote on cloture — perhaps more than one — before the middle of October when the Senate is scheduled to adjourn or recess for the November elections.

Ervin said the votes already taken showed more than a third of the Senate is opposed to the direct election amendment.

"We've had a lot of hokum about this thing," he said, "but this isn't the right solution."

Ervin pledged to devote a major effort in the next Congress to bringing about "genuine reform" in the presidential election system.

The vote on cutting off debate was 53 for and 34 against, or five short of the necessary two-thirds majority. Thirty-four Democrats and 19 Republicans voted for cloture. Against were 15 Democrats and 19 Republicans.

A first attempt on Sept. 17 to put the cloture rule into effect fell six votes short, with 54 for and 36 against.

The proposed amendment, approved by the House a year ago and endorsed by President Nixon, would abolish the electoral college system and provide that a Presidential candidate who got 40 per cent or more of the popular vote nationwide would be elected.

If no candidate received 40 per cent of the vote, a runoff election would be held between the two front-runners.

West Virginia is nicknamed the "Mountain State."

The race is considered close with some local observers believing the GOP candidate has cut considerably into Burdick's early lead.

A crowd of close to 5,000 heard Agnew's speech, applauding frequently. The only sign of dissent was a banner held up by a group of young people in the balcony at the start of the speech proclaiming, "We're not impressed."

Earlier, Agnew spoke to several hundred Republicans at a $50-per-couple reception and predicted that in November "we're going to score the biggest upset in an off-year election that this country has ever seen and part of it is going to be in North Dakota."

After taping a television interview here today, Agnew's schedule called for him to fly to Salt Lake City where he speaks tonight for Rep. Laurence Burton, running against Democratic Sen. Frank E. Moss in another tight Senate contest.

The vice president flew here from Sioux Falls, S.D., where he assailed the report of the Presidential Commission on Campus Unrest. He called its contention that President Nixon bears the responsibility for ending student disruptions "scapegoating" of the most irresponsible sort.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — ABC's "Movie of the Week," a series of 90-minute filmed television programs with good production values and often top rank performers, comprise network television's only regularly scheduled anthology.

The first couple of shows this season indicate there will be an ambitious mix of stories and themes. Last week Anthony Perkins appeared in a Gothic tale of blindness and pyromania. On Tuesday the production was a so-so science-fiction tale called "Night Slaves." A convalescing man and his wife are visiting a small Western town which becomes strange after dark. Viewers who remember "The Invaders" will recognize the situation, even remember the plot.

James Franciscus played the hero, a man immune to the spell put on the villagers by visitors from another planet.

The series may go through a period of comparative inattention from viewers because it conflicts with NBC's Tuesday night movie. All three networks currently are broadcasting the cream of their feature film packages, a usual start-of-the-season practice. But as the season wears on and the lesser features turn up, "Movie of the Week" will look better and better.

CBS's uniformly rewarding "60 Minutes" on Tuesday night started well with a roundtable discussion by a group of New Haven police officers after seeing a couple of short "stress films" showing a fellow officers attempting to function under hostile conditions.

They told of personal reactions to abuse, insults and being called "pigs." Mostly it was anger, occasionally resentment. One officer told of being snarled at by a boy and a few minutes later pulling the boy's foot out of a wheel where it was caught. "I asked him did he still think I was a pig," the policeman related. He sounded hurt.

There was also a sympathetic portrait of William F. Buckley Jr., conservative columnist and editor.

Some footage showed Cuba's faltering economy.

The program has a tendency to concentrate on the serious side—some light notes occasionally would be welcome.

AF Admits Some Policies Out of Line

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force, conceding some of its policies are out of line with "the recent emphasis on women's rights," has given women another victory in their battle for equal treatment in the military.

Faced with a lawsuit charging sex discrimination, the Air Force Tuesday tossed aside its long-standing policy of preventing women with children from remaining in the service.

The old regulations, said Lt. Gen. A. J. Russell, are "not considered to be in consonance with the recent emphasis on women's rights nor do they conform with a proposed Pentagon policy on equal rights for all Defense Department employees."

The action came a day after Capt. Tommie Sue Smith, a 35-year-old divorcee from Johnson City, Tenn., sued the Air Force, charging the regulations do not apply to men and therefore violate her constitutional rights.

Mrs. Smith, a lawyer and one of seven women judge advocates in the Air Force, said the regulations would have forced her to choose between her 8-year-old son and her Air Force career.

In a similar suit a month ago, a Navy enlisted woman charged that service's efforts to dismiss her because of terminated pregnancy was based on a double sexual standards and violated her constitutional rights.

Seaman Anna Flores, 23, who is stationed at Pensacola, Fla., complained that men in the armed services are not subjected to the same moral restrictions as women and that such a distinction is discriminatory. The Navy subsequently permitted her to remain in the service.

Mrs. Smith, divorced six years ago, said she was told by the Air Force she would not be able to take her son when she is transferred next year from her

Dear Helen:

My sister, a divorcee with two children, is in love with a cruel person. He loses his temper constantly and takes it out on her, throws things, breaks windows, and messes up the house which she then has to clean up. He is mean to her children too.

He is very jealous of her. He accuses her of dating her ex-husband, and he has made her give up her women friends.

He lies to her and screams a lot. He also looks old enough to be her father. My sister even helps care for his four children. She has been with him two years. Each time she decides to quit she goes back because "she loves him."

On top of all this, his mother is current post at Andrews Air Force Base to the Philippines.

Men are permitted to take their dependents along, except in combat zones.

Regulations that force her to choose between her career and her son are "blatantly inequitable" sex discrimination, charged Mrs. Smith.

just as mean as he is, and lives close by.

How can I make my sister see what's in store for her if she marries him? Or even if she doesn't? —CONCERNED

P.S. Why is love so blind?

Dear Con:

Your sister knows what's in store for her, and evidently she wants it that way. So all you can do is steer her toward a better man — and hope. —H.

P.S. Love is blind because loneliness, for some, is worse than cruelty. Your sister may be afraid to let go, for even a "crumb" is better than nothing.

Dear Helen:

This woman calls me at my office to inform me on what's going on with my ex-wife. It's not my concern any more — who she is seeing or how drunk she got Saturday night.

It would be like my ex to put her up to this. Before the divorce I conducted rescue missions regularly, but I am through bailing my wife out of the trouble she brings on herself. She knows it — thus the go-between.

I've told this woman so, but she continues to call. How can I stop this harassment? —BAFFLED

EXECUTIVE

Dear Ex:

Tell the woman you will no longer accept her calls. Your secretary can filter them out with "Mr. E. is in conference."

If she still won't quit, perhaps your lawyer might explain to her the uselessness of her efforts. —H.

Dear Helen:

Why is plastic or cosmetic surgery so expensive? Even a complete face lift is not considered "dangerous" surgery, yet I've read that it costs upwards of $1500. The most radical operation is usually less than half that much — and takes much more time, with a lot more after care.

Women are beginning to NEED all the help they can get, now that they are entering the business world and competing both socially and financially with younger people. Should cosmetic surgery be out of reach for all but the affluent? —ONE OF THE MANY DEPRIVED

Dear One:

At a cocktail party I once met a very candid plastic surgeon who agrees with you — but he probably wouldn't do so in print.

"Cosmetic" operations are considered luxury items, not vital to the health of the patient, and therefore "luxury" priced. And that's a shame, for in our youth oriented society, an aging woman (or man) needs all the help she (or he) can get! —H.

Wants Hoover's View Outlined to Students

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has urged college administrators to outline to students J. Edgar Hoover's views on avoiding campus trouble. Nixon sent administrators a letter in which the FBI director listed eight tactics employed by campus extremists to lure students into their activities.

The President called Hoover's letter "a cogent and enlightening analysis" of extremist tactics and urged college presidents to get the message to students.

In the letter, Hoover said the campus situation may be serious at some institutions but added: "Along with millions of other adults, I'm betting on the vast majority of students to remain fair-minded, tolerant, inquisitive, but also firm about certain basic principles of human dignity, respect for the rights of others and a willingness to learn."

Tech End Is Player of the Week

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ
Associated Press Writer

Texas Tech defensive end Bruce Dowdy ran for his life last Saturday against the University of Texas—and he won.

"It was a do-or-die battle for me," Dowdy said. "I knew I had to play a great game and I played better than any college game of my career. I never quit because I knew if I was going to have a great game, I'd have to hustle."

"I had to run quicker and faster because I was running for my life."

Dowdy said the game became so crucial for him because of a misunderstanding over statements he made about the Texas team in general and running back Steve Worster in particular. Dowdy said he meant the statements as compliments but they came out as something personal between him and Worster.

And there's little doubt Dowdy accomplished what he started out to do. He recovered two fumbles that stopped Texas scoring drives deep in Tech territory. He made nine tackles and blocked a pass. Two of the tackles were behind the line of scrimmage.

Dowdy's big game netted him The Associated Press Southwest Conference Defensive Player of the Week honor—the same award he won in 1968 when Tech handed Texas its last defeat.

Versatile Gary Hammond, who's had three whole games of experience as a tailback at Southern Methodist, hit the jackpot last Saturday against New Mexico State.

Platooners Fail to Work for Twins

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bill Rigney got more punch in the Minnesota offense by platooning his platooners, but the Twins still came up short — by an extra point.

Rigney's Twins wasted a 27-man effort Tuesday when they bowed to the Kansas City Royals 14-13 on a run-scoring single in the 12th inning by relief pitcher Ted Abernathy.

The Royals pressed 22 players into action as the two clubs set an all-time manpower mark. The previous record of 48 was set by the New York Giants and Chicago Cubs in a 1956 game.

"It seems like quite a while since we've gotten a lot of runs," Rigney had complained Monday night after the Twins nipped the Royals 1-0 on a squeeze bunt.

The Minnesota attack promptly came alive with a barrage of 20 hits—five of them by shortstop Leo Cadenas, but the Royals matched the Twins' hit total and topped them in the scoring column when Abernathy connected against rookie Pete Hamm, Rigney's sixth pitcher.

The Baltimore Orioles, who take on the Twins Saturday in the opener of the American League pennant playoffs, swept a doubleheader from hapless Washington 3-2 in 10 innings and 3-2 in 11. Boston overcame the New York Yankees 5-4; Cleveland trimmed Detroit 5-2; California pounded the Chicago White Sox 9-2 and Oakland edged Milwaukee 4-3.

In the National League, Pittsburgh downed St. Louis 7-2; the New York Mets topped the Chicago Cubs 3-1; Montreal routed Philadelphia 10-3; Atlanta shaded Cincinnati 2-1; Houston defeated San Francisco 3-1 and Los Angeles crushed San Diego 8-2.

The Twins took a 9-5 lead into the ninth inning, but the Royals exploded for six runs—Ed Kirkpatrick sending them ahead with a two-run double.

Cadenas' run-scoring single keyed a tying Minnesota rally in the bottom of the ninth and he drove in two more with a single in the 11th after the Royals had taken a 13-11 lead in the top half.

The visitors then pushed over the winner on a walk and singles by Bill Sorrell and Abernathy, their seventh pitcher.

Mark Belanger's sacrifice fly in the 10th inning of the opener and Frank Robinson's pinch double in the 11th of the nightcap delivered the winning runs for the Orioles, who have won nine consecutive games five of them in overtime.

The Senators have lost 12 in a row.

Mike Cuellar worked eight innings in the opener in a final tune-up for the Orioles' starting assignment against Perry and the Twins at Minnesota Saturday.

Carl Yastrzemski's third hit, a run-scoring single in the ninth, capped a three-run Boston comeback and hiked his average to a league-high .329.

Steve Hargan ran his pitching mark to 11-3 as the Indians handed Mickey Lolich, a 19-game winner last season, his 19th setback.

Clyde Wright hurled a five-hitter for his 22nd victory as the Angeles breezed past Chicago and rookie Bobby Brooks crashed a homer and RBI double in Oakland's victory over the Brewers.

Colorado Lineman Is Honored

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

Since Coach Eddie Crowder found Herb Orvis not far from the Berlin Wall, it's only right that the big defensive end should be part of the University of Colorado's wall.

And as far as Penn State is concerned, the 6-foot-6, 230-pound junior from Petoskey, Mich., could just as well have made the Army a career.

Maddox Can't Block Quarry, Clay Fight

ATLANTA (AP) — Gov. Lester Maddox cannot block the heavyweight fight scheduled Oct. 26 between Muhammad Ali and Jerry Quarry, Georgia Atty. Gen. Arthur K. Bolton says.

Bolton ruled Tuesday that jurisdiction over the fight is left entirely to the city of Atlanta, where the proposed bout will be held, because the state has no law or laws pertaining to boxing matches.

Maddox asked Bolton last week to determine if he could take action to halt the fight. The governor said he feels the match would be "an affront" to veterans of the armed services in the state and added that he believes the bout should not be held until the deposed world heavyweight champion has said he is ready to serve in the military.

Ali, who prefers to use his Muslim name rather than Cassius Clay, was stripped of his title for refusing induction into the Army.

Maddox has urged Atlanta's city officials not to permit Ali to "fight for profit if he won't fight for his country." However, State Sen. Leroy Johnson, who helped promote the fight, said the match will be held despite Maddox's objections.

Johnson also said that Mayor Sam Massell has indicated that the bout can be held as scheduled.

All, after he was stripped of his title, was forced from the ring more than three years as numerous cities throughout the United States and Canada refused to issue a boxing license to him. However, he had no difficulty in gaining a license in Atlanta and fought three opponents in an eight-round exhibition match here earlier this month.

He outpointed each of his opponents in the three exhibition bouts.

Turner Turns Ankle, Misses Hog Practice

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Defensive tackle John Turner, who was elevated to the Arkansas Razorback's first team Monday, twisted a knee at the beginning of practice Tuesday and missed the workout.

Turner had replaced junior letterman Roger Harnish. Harnish suffered a knee injury in Saturday's game against Tulsa.

"It was a learning day," Broyles said of Tuesday's practice. "A lot of the learning was trying to defend against (TCU quarterback Steve) Judy."

Stanford, Irish, Texas Are Favored

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Stanford, Notre Dame and Kansas State are the picks this week to get revenge for past indignities at the hands of Purdue, Michigan State and Colorado.

Elsewhere, Penn State should start a new winning streak while Alabama and Mississippi will try to repeat last year's national television thriller, which saw all sorts of records set as Alabama sneaked through 33-32.

Purdue at Stanford—Mike Phipps passed Purdue to 15 points in the last period a year ago, including a two-point conversion with three minutes left, and a 36-35 come-from-behind victory. The shoe should be on the other foot this time of Stanford can avoid looking ahead to Southern California, its next opponent Stanford.

Notre Dame at Michigan State—The Irish have traveled to East Lansing nine times since their last victory there in 1949. Eight times they came home losers and the other was that fabled 10-10 tie in 1966, which Notre Dame wants to forget but no one will let them. This is where it all ends, even though Duffy Daugherty is 10-4-1 against ... Notre Dame.

Colorado at Kansas State—What can Colorado do for an encore after ending Penn State's long unbeaten streak? Would you believe a loss? The Wildcats, who have lost five in a row and 19 of 25 to Colorado, sat quarterback Lynn Dickey and his injured rib cage out of last week's loss to Arizona State but he's ready to go. Kansas State.

Penn State at Wisconsin—One week ago the Nittany Lions had an unbeaten string of 31 games and a winning streak of 23. Now it's 0 and 0. Prediction is 1 and 1 coming up, Penn State.

Alabama at Mississippi—If the Rebels aren't up for this game, they'll never be up. Besides last year's heart-breaker, Ole Miss has an all-time record of 3-22-2 against the Crimson Tide. Archie Manning of Ole Miss and 'Bama's Scott Hunter filled the air with football last year as 24 national, Southeastern Conference and team records were established. Manning completed 33 of 52 for 436 yards and his total offense of 540 yards was the second biggest in college football history. Hunter was 22 for 29 for 300 yards. It'll all be on ABC-TV (9:30 p.m., EDT) and the pick is ... Mississippi.

Duke at Ohio State — Although Leo Hart is the nation's passing leader, Duke has found points hard to come by. On the other hand, Ohio State ripped off 415 yards on the ground and 56 points in walloping Texas A&M, Ohio State, it is.

UCLA at Texas—Can Dennis Dummit pass the Bruins to a fourth straight victory? No. Texas.

Oregon State at Southern California—The Trojans may be looking right through the Beavers to Stanford. They also may run right through them. Southern Cal.

Nebraska at Minnesota—The Cornhuskers start their Big Eight campaign a week from Saturday against Missouri. The Gophers should be tough, as Minnesota teams usually are, but not tough enough. Nebraska.

Texas A&M at Michigan—Ohio State brought the Aggies back to earth after their upset of Louisiana State and Michigan should bury them a little deeper.

Rookie Milt May kept the newly crowned National League East champion Pittsburgh Pirates sizzling while newcomer Mike McQueen cooled Cincinnati the runaway West winners, gaining his first major league triumph.

May Keyed Pittsburgh's 7-2 victory over Bob Gibson and the St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday night, drilling a two-run pinch double that snapped a 1-1 tie in a four-run Pirates' eighth inning. The Pirates, who clinched the East title Sunday, ran their winning streak to five in a row.

McQueen, a rookie left-hander, stopped the Reds on seven hits for his first complete game in the majors. He is 1-5, ending Cincinnati's two-game winning string.

In other NL games, the New York Mets stopped Chicago 3-1, Montreal routed Philadelphia 10-3, Houston trimmed San Francisco 3-1 and Los Angeles whipped San Diego 8-2.

Back of Week Is Theismann of Notre Dame

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Coaches say Notre Dame football players block a little more aggressively for quarterback Joe Theismann, Associated Press collegiate back-of-the-week, because they like him.

"The rest of the team likes him, they pull for him and they protect him," said Athletic Director Edward "Moose" Krause, a massive landmark on the Irish campus since 1930.

"He's seldom dumped behind the line."

Theismann, a curly-haired senior from South River, N.J., earned an A average last year as a sociology major and has a high B average for three years.

He wants to take post-graduate work in sociology after, or during, a probable career in pro ball.

The quarterback threw four touchdown passes last Saturday in a 48-0 slaughter of Purdue and Krause said the game film showed much more than that.

"Seventy per cent or more of the time, Theismann charged plays at the line of scrimmage to handle Coach Bob DeMoss's good shifting defense," Krause said.

"Notre Dame has had a lot of great quarterbacks — John Huarte, Terry Hanratty, Ralph Guglielmi, Angelo Bertelli, John Lujack, Frank Carideo, Harry Stuhldreher and many others. I put Theismann in their class and I think that's quite an honor."

Theismann filled in for injured Terry Hanratty in the last three games of the 1968 season. He has been Coach Ara Parseghian's starting quarterback ever since.

Theismann set a Notre Dame total offense record of 1,909 yards last season and set Cotton Bowl records of 231 yards passing and 279 yards total offense despite the 21-17 loss to Texas.

Going into Saturday's game at old rival Michigan State, Theismann has a Notre Dame career total of 3,086 yards in 16 games. The Irish record is 4,833 by George "The Gipper" Gipp in four seasons, 1917-1920.

Schoendienst Hired Again by Cardinals

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Red Schoendienst, who weathered one of the St. Louis Cardinals' worst slumps in modern club history, has been rehired as manager for 1971, his seventh season.

The mild-mannered Redbirds' skipper, given infrequently to anger, was seemingly on the ropes when his club went into a nosedive during the month of July and lost 17 of 19 games.

But Cardinals owner August A. Busch Jr. gave him and General Manager Bing Devine a vote of confidence in the midst of the slump and Tuesday announced Schoendienst's rehiring.

As the Cardinals' 28th field skipper, Schoendienst stands only one month and 19 days short of the club's longest managerial tenure, that established from 1919 to 1925 by the late Branch Rickey.

A longtime Cardinals favorite as a player, the 47-year-old Schoendienst was rehired along with his first base coach, Vern Benson, 46, and third base coach, George Kissel, 50.

Not rehired were Billy Muffett, 40, the club's pitching coach since 1967, and Dick Sisler, 49, hitting coach since 1966.

Terms of Schoendienst's contract were not disclosed.

Indians Have a Very Hard Practice

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas State Indians went through an unusually hard practice here Tuesday afternoon in preparation for Saturday's game against The Citadel in War Memorial Stadium at Little Rock.

Coach Bennie Ellender said the Indians had more contact work than usual for a Tuesday, but the attitude of the team was good and the Tribe was picking up assignments very well.

"We sent our defensive people through a tough practice because we are concerned about the offense they will face Saturday night," said Ellender.

"We'll also be facing a prototype defense for the first time

Lane Comes Into His Own at Last

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — When they asked MacArthur Lane of the St. Louis Cardinals to explain his running success against Washington, he said candidly, "I'm a pretty big back. For them, it was like trying to hold a greased pig."

Lane, the Cards' No. 1 draft in 1968 but only a part-time performer in two injury-plagued years, came into his own Sunday with 146 rushing yards against Washington. He gained a total of only 167 yards rushing in his two previous years.

The spectacular performance of the 28-year-old former Utah State back who also scored two touchdowns in a 27-17 victory over the Redskins earned him recognition by the Associated Press as the Offensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

"When there's no daylight, you try to find daylight," Lane told staffer Paul Le Bar in St. Louis. "When you're hit, you put your head in a swivel. The only time you're supposed to lower your head is as a last resort."

Lane showed speed to the outside and power up the middle and that will require some extra preparation this week."

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset

just as he had done in five pre-season games during which he scored six times. He also caught a pass from Jim Hart for an apparent touchdown that was nullified by a penalty.

"I have more confidence in myself," said Lane. "I'm a believer in myself. My goal is to make All-Pro."

Plunkett Is Leading in Total Offense

NEW YORK (AP) — Senior Jim Plunkett of Stanford has replaced sophomore Sonny Sixkiller of Washington as the national leader in total offense, according to National Collegiate Sports Services.

Plunkett is averaging 302.3 rushing-passing yards a game and ranks fourth on the all-time career list. He needs only 672 yards in his remaining eight regular-season games to reach the top.

Sixkiller, with 148 yards against Michigan, dropped completely out of the top 10 leaders, although he still ranks eighth in passing.

Leo Hart of Duke is tops in that category with 20.7 completions per game while West Virginia's junior running back Pete Wood is averaging 160.7 yards a game on the ground to pace that department.

With many teams playing 11 games and others still playing 10 and nine, this season's leaders are decided as follows: Total offense and rushing on yards per game and passing on completions.

Brown's QB Intends to Keep Playing

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland Browns quarterback Bill Nelsen, injured in Sunday's 34-31 loss to the San Francisco 49ers, tossed aside his wife's comments that he should retire and says he intends to continue in pro football.

Nelsen, who sprained his right knee and has suffered from knee problems much of his pro career, said: "My hope is to get back for the game a week from Sunday. Whether I make it then or ever I just don't know yet."

"I don't want him to play football anymore," Susan Nelsen said of her husband Monday. "He knows how I feel. I've talked to him about it. I'd like to be a normal housewife."

But Nelsen, who has had all the cartilage removed from both knees because of previous football injuries, kidded after his wife's comments were published that: "Maybe I'll take Sue dancing tonight and give the knee a test."

"Guess she just got filled up listening to me talk about all my ailments and I can't blame her. In addition to the knees this year, I've had bruised ribs and an infected ear."

Cato Founder Pioneer in Retailing

Marking another year's progress in Hope, Mrs. Luvegia Worthy Mgr. of Cato's announced plans for their Founder's Day Sale. The event was conceived to thank the people here for their participation in the growth of Cato's. "We hope to make this storewide sale an annual fall event," Mrs. Worthy said.

Although Cato stores were founded over twenty years ago, the real beginning occurred thirty-one years before that on a spring morning back in 1915.

A young man walked into his father's general store on Main Street in Ridge Spring, S. C. that morning and went to work as a clerk. He had just finished his first year as teacher in a one room school house in another part of the state, and had arrived home to help in the store so his father could get on with spring planting on the family farm.

It was his first experience in merchandising. He never went back to his teacher's job. His name was W. H. Cato. "I knew before the end of that first day there was no question about what I wanted to do the rest of my life," he said in later years.

"Times have changed. We keep merchandising records on electronic computers instead of on the back of brown paper bags. We have buyers and designers searching out the best values and fashions all over the country, instead of 'waiting' for the drummer to get off the train with his sample cases. We have charge accounts and layaway plans instead of taking chickens and eggs in trade."

"But all the new fangled gadgets are there for only one purpose. That is to help to live up to our original principle-service, satisfaction guaranteed and friendliness."

W. A. Hollenbach, Jr., vice president of the Cato Corporation, explained Cato's interest in Hope. "For over two decades, Cato's has been serving throughout the southeast, the career girl, mother, child and infant in filling their clothing needs."

"Recent years have seen growing demands by customers for both new services and products. Indicative of this is the increasing sophistication of our customers in the southeastern towns in which we prefer to locate our stores, as well as the preference in these communities for convenience shopping. It is our intention to keep abreast of these demands."

"We reach our customers by attractive displays of a complete assortment of the latest merchandise, by courteous and attentive service and by creating an atmosphere that is appealing to the shopper."

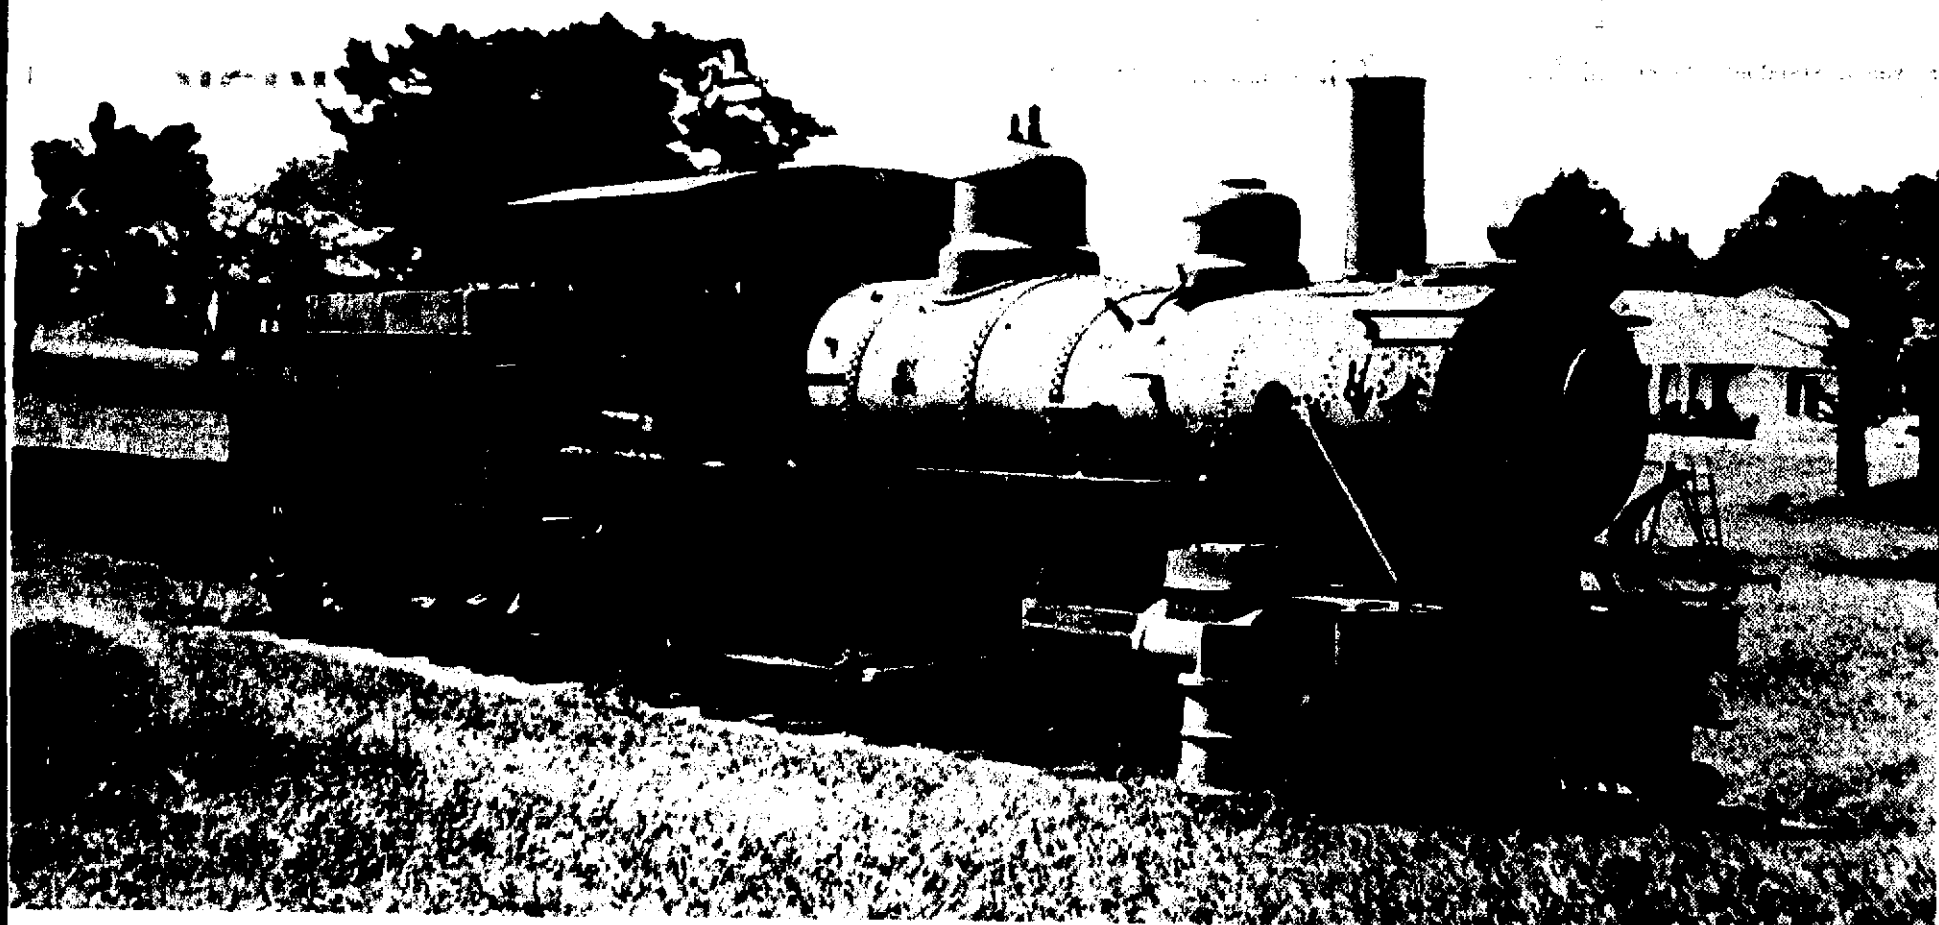

"We maintain a continuous advertising program of up-to-the-minute fashion and rely heavily on reasonable prices to suit the majority of the customer's needs. At the same time, we are constantly attentive in keeping existing stores modern and up-to-date."

"Our New York and Charlotte merchandising staffs remain alert to the changing demands of our friends and customers. It is the function of our company to stay abreast of these changes by bringing daily new styles, trends and items, coupled with Mr. Cato's principle belief in service, satisfaction and friendliness."

Not long ago, a Cato's opened in Batesburg, S. C., a town not too many miles from Ridge Spring. "Customers come into that store who remember papa's store in Ridge Spring," Mr. Cato recently said with a chuckle. "Yes sir. If you serve customers well, they never forget."

Says Schools Wanted to Give Drugs
By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Two witnesses told Congress today some school officials have harassed and pressured parents for permission to give drugs to problem children.

They testified before a House privacy subcommittee looking into the use of amphetamine to treat overactive children—as many as 300,000 of them by the estimate of one federal mental health official.

The drugs are medically accepted in treating a children's nerve disorder known as hyperactivity or minimal brain dysfunction—the problem child syndrome.

However, subcommittee chairman Cornelius E. Gallagher, D-N.J., said in prepared opening remarks he wanted to find if drugs are being used to quiet normal children who appear fidgety because they are bored.

Theodore Johnson, a Veteran's Administration chemist from Omaha, Neb., said in his prepared testimony that parents there had been coerced by techniques including threats that their children would be expelled unless they agreed to drugs.

He said officials would refer parents to doctors who would make the desired prescription.

Mrs. Daniel Youngs of Indianapolis said she and her husband left Little Rock, Ark., in 1966 after a three-year "nightmare." Officials pressured them to permit their two grade-school children to be given drugs in an experimental program run by the University of Arkansas Medical Center, she said in her prepared statement.

Mrs. Youngs said school officials, not doctors, diagnosed her son and daughter as having learning disabilities and pleaded with them repeatedly to submit them to drug treatment.

The couple's home was watched, she said, and both children were given extra work. The family left two weeks before the end of the school year after officials threatened to go to court for permission to use drugs on the children, she said.

Two Arkansas Medical Center researchers denied that children were recruited for their program.

"The decision to seek professional help through the services of the Child Study Center is made by parents, who may first consult with their family physician, school personnel or other community resources," said a joint statement by John E. Peters and Sam D. Clements.

Opening lead—♥ 7

If you don't use Stayman, don't intend to use Stayman and in general aren't interested in improving your bidding at all, we are afraid that this article will be wasted on you.

If not, read this, study it a few minutes and see how easy it is to play Stayman according to JACOBY MODERN.

Our two-club response to an opening no-trump is artificial and forcing and demands that partner rebid two diamonds with no four-card or longer major. Otherwise opener rebids two of his four-card major. With both majors opener rebids two of the better one.

Today's hand shows Stayman at its best. South has a very normal no-trump opening. Without the Stayman convention, North would raise to three no-trump. He has 11 high-card points and a balanced hand. West would open the seven of hearts and barring some really frightful plays by East and West, South would make only eight tricks.

Playing Stayman the response is two clubs. North intends to bid three no-trump if South's rebid is two hearts or two diamonds but South rebids two spades. A 4-4 spade fit has been found and North jumps to the spade game.

West opens the same seven of hearts. Dummy's ace wins. Three leads pull the defender's trumps. Then South knocks out the ace of diamonds. Since the club finesse works and one club can be discarded on dummy's fourth diamond, South collects 11 tricks and scores game and rubber. A lot better than going down one at three no-trump.

Two Killed In Accident
ATKINS, Ark. (AP) — Two persons were killed Monday in a one-vehicle accident on Arkansas 105 about five miles north of here.

State Police identified the victims as Mildred B. McCutcheon, 48, of Dover and F. O. Aldridge, 59, of Atkins.

The accident occurred when a pickup truck driven by Mrs. McCutcheon went out of control in a curve and overturned, police said.

fore the end of the school year after officials threatened to go to court for permission to use drugs on the children, she said.

Two Arkansas Medical Center researchers denied that children were recruited for their program.

"The decision to seek professional help through the services of the Child Study Center is made by parents, who may first consult with their family physician, school personnel or other community resources," said a joint statement by John E. Peters and Sam D. Clements.

LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M. D.
'Normal' Is Not Enough, Don't Settle for That
By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

Do you think of yourself as normal? Or would you like to have "normal" health? More than one out of two of our so-called normal people die of heart or vascular disease while many others have senile mental problems.

No, being normal in that sense is not good enough. What you want is an optimal state of health—a condition not likely to be associated with the "normal" occurrence of disease.

Doctors often use normal to mean common or usual. We got trapped into that concept by our mathematical friends who use normal in a statistical sense. Now that medicine is directing more attention to preventing illness we have to use new values—values associated with continued good health. Thus—optimal.

A good example of this problem is body weight. For years "normal" weight was determined by measuring the range of body weight in a large number of people of different ages. The results were the basis for weight tables. Since people from 20 to 60 years of age tended to have increased body weight with increased age, this was considered "normal" from a statistical point of view.

Then the life insurance companies noted that the increased weight—normal or not—was associated with a much higher rate of disease and early deaths. Certainly the increased weight was not an optimal finding. Since life insurance companies do not like to lose money they changed the weight tables—essentially disregarding age in the adult as a factor in determining "optimal" body weight.

There is a lot of work yet to be done on defining optimal values in regard to health. We still don't know what the optimal body weight should be. I can tell you that young men in peak physical condition, like some of the men I observed entering the astronaut program and most endurance athletes, such as distance runners, have little fat on their body.

These men had chemical values of blood tests far below the level we see in groups with a high rate of heart disease and far below what we usually consider as "normal." The amount of fat on their body was considerably less than in other men in their age group.

In general, if you have gained weight after your early 20s or can feel any roll of fat around your waist or navel, or if your clothes have "shrunk" since early adult life—you are too fat!

Whenever anyone tells you that you are normal—just remember to be normal is too common and in our society it is common to have artery disease, complicated with heart attacks, strokes and senility.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

American authors, songwriters and motion picture producers can thank Noah Webster for initiating copyright laws that protected the rights of authors. The World Almanac recalls that Webster crusaded for a federal copyright law, enacted in 1790, after unscrupulous publishers reprinted his "Blue-Back Speller" without payment or credit.

Can You Spot The Difference In INSURANCE AGENCIES?

It's easy. If an agent represents many companies and handles all types of insurance, you know he is fiercely independent. He isn't tied to any one company and by representing many, he can place your business where it's best for you. Working on a commission basis he represents only your interests.

And if he lives in the community, he's local. A local, independent agent is hard to beat.

Bumpers Says WR Is Not Specific

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dale Bumpers, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, charged Tuesday that Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller has not been adequately specific in discussing the issues of the campaign.

Rocketfeller has said that Bumpers was saying little of substance about the issues. "We feel the same about each other," Bumpers said. "He says I'm not specific enough. I say he's not specific enough. I'm satisfied with what I've said."

WR Confirms Willingness to Debate

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller has written to Dale Bumpers confirming his public remark that he wanted to debate the Democratic gubernatorial nominee.

Rocketfeller said here Tuesday that he feared Bumpers had not taken the debate remark seriously since he had not heard from Bumpers.

Rocketfeller told newsmen that improvement of highways in South Arkansas and other areas of the state was a concern to him and that he would be in favor of a bond issue to finance highway construction. He mentioned a figure of from $200 million to $500 million.

He said he would be "perfectly willing" to ask the 1971 legislature to enact legislation calling for an election on a highway bond issue but he said he did not know whether the initiative of a bill should come from the governor's office or the state Highway Department.

Rocketfeller repeated earlier statements that if he is elected to a third term he would ask the legislature to take action in the sales and income taxes to produce additional revenue. He said he did not believe "adequate revenue" could be raised from tax sources without "involving the sales tax."

The governor declined comment on how much money he would spend in his campaign, saying, "If I could I wouldn't, but I can't. I don't know the exact figures."

He said he could not give an exact figure because his political interest had extended to helping promote the two-party system in the state, supporting the proposed new constitution and contributing to the campaigns of other candidates.

"There's no sense in waiting further time on the subject because frankly I'll have no further comment," Rocketfeller said.

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset

A "fact sheet" distributed by Rockefeller, said the state gains under the administration, is filled with statistics, but the blandest generalities. Bumpers said.

The Democratic nominee, in a brief interview with reporters, also said he considers the party platform an endorsement of the proposed new state constitution.

Bumpers was asked about the platform language and the likelihood that Republicans will offer "wholehearted" endorsement of the proposed charter.

The word "endorse" is not in the Democratic party platform plank on the constitution, but the plank does urge a "favorable vote" for the document.

Injuries Fatal to Dover Man

Group Inspects Facilities at Prison

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Legislative Council's Committee on Charitable, Penal and Correctional Institutions spent about three hours inspecting barracks, kitchen and laundry facilities at Cummins Prison Farm Tuesday.

The committee of six, headed by state Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott, apparently will recommend that prison funds be expended under a different plan from the one established by Act 72 of this year.

The committee was assigned the tour Sept. 17 after Correction Commissioner Robert Sarver proposed to the council that funds appropriated by Act 72 of this year's special legislative session be spent on a basis other than the one authorized by law.

The act appropriated $178,000 for renovation of barracks and latrines and $174,000 for improvements to kitchen, dining, laundry, water and sewer facilities. The appropriations were for the fiscal year to end next June 30.

Sarver told the council at that meeting that renovations of barracks, designed to increase the safety of state prison inmates, could not be accomplished by next June, when construction is expected to be completed on a maximum security unit.

The unit will make possible separation of troublesome inmates from the remainder of the prison population, removing the need for extensive barracks renovation, Sarver said.

Sarver proposed combining the two appropriations and the spending of the $350,000 total in this way: $40,000 for barracks renovation, $5,000 for laundry improvements, $95,000 as state matching money for a federal grant pending for 2 1/2 months for a sewer and water system, and $210,000 for renovation of kitchen and dining facilities.

During the tour Tuesday, Hendrix commented that he did not think it would be necessary to spend all of the $210,000 to adequately upgrade kitchen and dining facilities.

Hendrix and the other legislators agreed to allotting $95,000 to match the federal funds. Hendrix also said he thought about one-third of the laundry equipment should be replaced.

California Fire Under More Control

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Fire fighters aided by cool, moist weather drew tighter lines around burning brush and timber tracts today and California's worst ever blazes appeared near an end.

Shortly before dark Tuesday the last of the 147-mile perimeter of the Malibu-Chatsworth blazes northwest of downtown Los Angeles was surrounded. Near San Diego, officials said a 200,000-acre fire was largely contained.

The death toll stood at 10, damage since the outbreak Friday was estimated at $175 million and almost a half-million acres were scorched. More than 400 homes and 193 other structures were destroyed.

Still burning were an 18,000-acre blaze in Sequoia National Forest near Bakersfield and a 32,500-acre brush and timber fire nearby.

A 12,000-acre brush fire burned in Cuyamaca State Park in San Diego County. Firemen continued to fight an 8,600-acre blaze in San Bernardino County, where a 21-year-old man was hooked for investigation of the misdemeanor charge of setting off firecrackers in a fire hazard area.

Wednesday, September 30, 1970

"The weather made all the difference," a spokesman for the Los Angeles County fire department said. "We didn't have the hot winds for the past two days and there was a marked increase in humidity."

Hot winds blasting from the desert at up to 60 miles an hour gave rise to the outbreak.

Officials said some of the fires may have been spontaneous, but during the next four days hundreds popped up throughout Southern California and some of these were blamed on arsonists.

Bomb Threat at El Dorado Plant

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Employees at the Great Lakes Chemical plant here, were evacuated shortly before noon Tuesday because of a bomb threat.

The plant has been struck for weeks by the Oil and Atomic Workers Union local.

Police said an anonymous telephone call was received at the plant shortly after 11:30 a.m., and the caller said a bomb had been placed in the plant and was set to go off at noon.

Unlimited Israel Aid in Spending Bill

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A compromise $19.9-billion military purchasing bill, including funds for two more Safeguard antimissile sites and authority for unlimited aid to Israel, is headed for final consideration in the Senate.

The bill, which came out of a Senate-House conference last week, was approved 341 to 11 by the House Tuesday.

It is expected to win final approval in the Senate by week's end, despite a fight by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who claims the conference butchered money-saving features of the measure.

Proxmire, a frequent critic of waste in military spending, concedes there is little chance the Senate will restore restrictions struck by the conference. But he suggested some of the savings might be realized by making bigger-than-usual cuts in the pending military appropriations bill.

In separate action Tuesday the Senate approved, 73 to 0, a $1.68 billion military construction bill authorizing new building on military bases in the United States and overseas.

The compromise bill authorizes doubling the number of ABM sites and approves unlimited arms credit for Israel.

But essentially, the bill is the Pentagon's shopping list for new arms and hardware. The Senate version called for spending $19.2 billion, a 6.7 per cent reduction of President Nixon's $20.6 billion budget request.

The compromise $19.9 billion total represents a 3.4 per cent cut.

The conference prohibited any spending for development of a Chinese-oriented, area missile defense and barred development of a third nuclear aircraft carrier, both Senate-imposed limitations.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cool weather is expected to continue in Arkansas.

Temperatures in the state this morning hovered in the low to mid 50s as an arctic air mass continues to control the state's weather.

The high temperatures around the state Tuesday were in the high 70s or low 80s.

Highs Thursday will also be in the upper 70s to mid 80s. Lows tonight mostly in the 50s. Overnight lows included 46 at Fayetteville, 55 at Harrison, 57 at Jonesboro, 55 at Pine Bluff, 56 at Texarkana, 54 at El Dorado, 55 at Memphis, 55 at Little Rock and 55 at Fort Smith.

Officials Say ABC Under Investigation

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Officials confirmed Tuesday that the State Police is investigating the Alcoholic Beverage Control Department.

The nature of allegations that led to the probe was not disclosed, but ABC Director Joe Gaspard said the inquiry involved one employee of the department. He would not identify the employee or say even whether the employee was male or female.

Col. Ralph Scott, director of the State Police, and Robert W. Faulkner, executive director to Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, confirmed the investigation was under way.

Scott and Faulkner, however, would not discuss the nature or source of allegations being investigated nor would they comment on the scope of the inquiry.

Rockefeller, on a campaign visit to Pine Bluff, said he was "aware of the fact of the problem they're investigating but I have no further comment."

Gaspard said he knew of no wrongdoing on his part.

Faulkner said the governor's office had directed that State Police make an investigation after officers received certain information and conveyed it to the governor's office. He would

Agnew Is Carrying on Tradition of Truman of 'Give 'em Hell'

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF AP Political Writer

MINOT, N.D. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says he is carrying on the Harry S. Truman tradition of "give 'em hell" campaigning. "I'm crisscrossing this nation telling the truth and they still think it's hell."

The Republican vice president invoked the name—and noted political characteristic—of the former Democratic president in a speech Tuesday night to a GOP rally after noting that Truman had spoken in Minot exactly 18 years before.

The vice president bore down heavily on the Vietnam issue in a speech dotted with references to his two trips to Asia. He declared that "if we were to cut and run before the South Vietnamese can adjust to defend themselves, South Vietnam would fall," leading to the murder of hundreds of thousands of Vietnamese and affecting the fate of at least six other nations. He did not specify the countries he had in mind.

"The best way to forestall such a calamity," he said, "is to elect Republican Rep. Thomas Kleppe in place of Democratic Sen. Quentin Burdick this November. See AGNEW IS (on page two)

Guerrillas Claim Jordan Truce Broken

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Palestine guerrillas charged that Jordan's army broke the uneasy truce today by shelling two towns in the northern part of the country.

A statement broadcast over Damascus radio said Irbin, 50 miles north of Amman, and Ramtha, 10 miles to the east, came under artillery fire and "the roar of the explosions can be clearly heard from the Syrian border."

The guerrillas charged the bombardment was "an open violation" of the truce agreement reached in Cairo Sunday between King Hussein and the Palestinian Leader, Yasser Arafat.

The Palestinian charge came after an Arab committee named to supervise a settlement of Jordan's 11-day civil war announced in Amman that fighting had ended and calm prevailed throughout the kingdom.

In another sector of the stormy Middle East, Israel has declared its willingness to extend the cease-fire with Egypt.

In Amman, Jordan's capital, an Arab committee named to supervise a settlement of the country's 11-day civil war announced that the fighting had ended and security and calm prevailed throughout the kingdom.

Meanwhile, the United States was expected to appeal to Israel, Jordan and Egypt to carry on the Middle East peace talks, suspended Sept. 6 after Tel Aviv charged Cairo with moving Soviet missiles into a standstill zone along the Suez Canal.

Diplomatic sources said U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost would make the appeal in a policy address today before the U.N. General Assembly.

The Israeli foreign minister, addressing a U.N. correspondents' luncheon, declared: "Israel will not open fire simply because a certain date has been reached. The initiative for creating the conditions for reopening the talks must come from Cairo."

Nasser Funeral AP News Digest Draws Kings, Presidents

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH Associated Press Writer

CAIRO (AP) — Kings and presidents are gathering in Cairo for Gamal Abdel Nasser's state funeral Thursday, but the fallen Egyptian president's cortege will belong to the people.

The government requisitioned Cairo's major hotels to house the dignitaries, who began arriving Tuesday night. Millions of Nasser's subjects also poured into the city and its suburb, Kubbah, where his body lay in state in the presidential palace and will be buried in a public mosque.

Cairo Radio said the funeral procession will begin at the old revolutionary headquarters on Gezira Island in the Nile River and will end at the mosque, five miles from Kubbah Palace.

The high-ranking foreigners—the United States will be represented by a five-man delegation headed by Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Elliot Richardson—will march across Kasr el Nil Bridge into Cairo, through Liberation Square and onto the premises of the Arab Socialist Union, by Nasser's decree the only political party in Egypt.

There the heads of state and official representatives will withdraw, and the mourning Arab multitudes will take the procession through areas which Nasser had developed early in his reign to symbolize change in Egyptian life.

Burial will be at Manshiet el Bakary Mosque, built with public donations two years ago. Nasser himself contributed to the project.

According to Moslem tradition, Nasser's interment should have been within 24 hours of his death Monday at the age of 52. It was delayed to allow representatives of foreign governments to arrive.

Premier Alexei N. Kosygin of the Soviet Union, Nasser's most prominent patron during the last few years, was among the first to arrive. Weeping as he left his plane, he was embraced by Anwar Sadat, the acting Egyptian president, and Gen. Mohammed Fawzi, commander-in-chief of Egypt's military, their eyes reddened by tears.

Sadat, one of two military officers remaining in power of the seven who overthrew King Farouk and set up the republic in 1952, presided over an emergency meeting of the Cabinet and the executive committee of the Socialist Union soon after Nasser died of a heart attack.

Nixon said NATO serves the best interest of all its member nations and that the U.S. is determined that the Mediterranean will not be an American sea but will "belong to all people."

Israel has declared its willingness to extend the cease-fire with Egypt indefinitely, and an Arab truce committee says calm has returned to Jordan.

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Six American men, the last of the airline passengers held hostage by Palestinian guerrillas in Jordan since Sept. 6, have left Jordan on their journey to New York. The Swiss, British and West German governments were expected to release Arab prisoners that had been demanded in exchange for the hostages after the hostages were "safe and sound outside Jordan."

Chrysler Also Hikes Prices of New Cars

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. has announced average price hikes for its 1971 model cars of $104 or 3.7 per cent, giving it the lowest increase among the industry's Big Three.

The nation's No. 3 automaker said Tuesday its suggested manufacturer's retail prices would have gone up an average of $147 or 4.5 per cent if it had not slashed dealer profit margins on some models.

Chrysler joined General Motors Corp. and Ford Motor Co. in leaving open the possibility of further price hikes for 1971 cars.

The automaker said increasing material and labor costs "could cause price revisions of all its 1971 cars."

The United Auto Workers union is striking GM over a new labor contract. When one is agreed to, the UAW plans to take it to other automakers for matching.
